a triangle —

THREE LINES connecting ... each extends in a different direction in life ... indicating achievement, yet not completion.

In the construction of the triangle each class has its own line ... its own measure of accomplishment.

Wide-eyed sophomores stretch out their hands for social acceptance in the Falcon corridors ... it takes time to gain recognition.

Determined juniors, stable in their second year, grasp eagerly for new ideas in learning methods of the complex world.

Proud, anxious, and competent in their studies, the seniors strive onward with enthusiasm ... around their leadership evolves the Falcon spirit whether in classes, assemblies, gym, or the Commons Area.

spirit

"WE HAIL our banners red and black . . ."

With acclaiming cheer — FIGHT FALCONS! rising above the bleachers, future leaders combine vivacious voices — backed by the Pep Band — in unison, pleading for a Falcon victory . . . "for the glory of our school" . . . don't yield, they plead, as the Falcons push onward . . . hesitate . . . then score.

Lingering in the Commons Area, the gym, and in the cafeteria, the Falcon spirit emerges . . . challenges . . . spiraling spirit, the determination of the conquerors.

Fondness . . . devotion . . . duty . . . self-consciousness is shed . . . voices respond to cheer leaders' yells . . . our loyalty is pledged.

study —

SHEDDING the worn shell — self identity steals . . . from among the melodic chords of music . . . an art creation . . . a story in the Highlighter . . . sociology discussions . . . a part in a drama play . . . grasping all that inquiring minds can absorb . . . that eyes can photograph . . . that the Falcon minds can record to replay in some unwonted moment.

Awareness of differences between beliefs, government, races, and social structures . . . words become balls of fires dancing between verbal discussions.

The mind . . . aware of the importance of studying . . . searches through the files of history . . . geography . . . algebra . . . famous writings . . . to find that which is unknown . . . seeking the path of new discoveries . . . the answers to a challenging world . . . opening the doors for more to come.

Dr. Alvin E. Morris — Superintendent of Unified District 259.

Dr. Robert E. Anderson creates a winning spirit

COLLECTOR OF COINS . . . lover of music . . . sports enthusiast . . . all these describe Dr. Robert E. Anderson, principal and head guardian of the Falcons.

Principal when Heights came into the city system, July 1963, he took time out the first semester of the 1964-65 term to earn his doctorate at the University of Wyoming, Laramie. In the fall of 1966 he returned to Heights as principal.

Dr. Anderson has several out-of-school interests. He served as president of the Wichita Administrators League this year and was president of the Greater Athletic League.

His hobby of collecting coins began when he received a starter collection from his father. His favorite is his half-dollar series.

Dr. Anderson enjoys handball for fun and "because it is a good conditioner."

He enjoys golf, too, and regrets that he has so little time to spend on Wichita's several golf courses.

For music Dr. Anderson admits a fondness. Many times his records can be heard playing over the intercom. He prefers musical comedy and classical music but enjoys all types, he said. Many times he finds himself listening to modern music when his daughters are home.

Dr. Anderson's home is in nearby Maize where he lives with his wife, two daughters, and the newest member of the family, a registered miniature dachshund named Gretta.

His daughter Carol is a junior at the University of Wyoming, Laramie; daughter Dana is a junior attending Maize High School.

new administrators pilots spirited Falcons

THREE NEW ADMINISTRATORS faced the new school year last August 28.

After serving as deputy superintendent the last 10 years, new superintendent of Unified District No. 259, Dr. Alvin Morris replaced Dr. Lawrence H. Shephoiser as superintendent of schools last summer.

Both assistant principals, Jerry D. Bailey and C. S. Ebert, were new to the 'Home of the Falcons' when school started.

Mr. Bailey taught seventh and eighth grade science for four years at Brooks Junior High and was ninth grade counselor for two years.

This year he scheduled activities and helped many students adjust to Falcon customs and regulations during the year.

Mr. Ebert previously taught at Matthewson and Truesdale junior high schools. This was his third year in administrative work.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL Jerry D. Bailey

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL C. S. Ebert

Dr. Robert E. Anderson, Principal

Senior Counselor, Mr. Norris Burke

busy counselor

not enough time — too many students

NEED HELP? — Counselor Warren Lewis was always eager to help his sophomores with scheduling, enrollment or even personal problems.

COUNSELING 1,617 students is not an easy job, admitted the LBJ team of Mr. Warren Lewis, Mrs. Claradine Johnson, and Mr. Morris Burke, head counselor.

The 626 sophomores presented quite a task for Counselor Lewis who last year was counselor to the seniors. In the rotation plan he was the sophomore counselor and will be with them until their graduation in 1971.

In his eighth year as counseling for the Falcons, Mr. Lewis has spent a total of 19 years in the teaching profession.

American history and government were just a few of the subjects he taught before becoming a counselor.

"I like kids," he said. "When I taught at Wellington, students kept coming in after school to talk to me. I felt that there must be some other way I could assist these kids. As a result of my brother's influence, I became a counselor."

This was Mrs. Claradine Johnson's fourth year as a counselor. Guiding 545 juniors, she volunteered that counseling students is not easy but is very important.

"Having two of my own, I enjoy listening and being with the younger generation. No two are alike, and everyday is completely unpredictable," said Mrs. Johnson. "Their outcome is very important. After all, they are the future leaders of America."

"Counseling involves not only the students, but the parents and teachers as well," said Mr. Norris Burke, head and senior counselor.

Teaching for 34 years, Mr. Burke has taught various subjects as well as publishing a few articles that have been read nation-wide.

Counselor Burke, in his eighth year at Heights, had 436 seniors to advise, guide, and help prepare for working or college careers.

language arts

ape . . . a step toward better english preparation

"THE WHOLE FIELD of English is undergoing a change, much like that undergone by math a few years ago.

"A different approach to how language functions and an emphasis on the generative grammars, the Roberts English Series is introduced in the grade school with the structure of sentences. At the high school level, teachers are concerned with the larger aspects of language: paragraph structure, composition, and essays," said Mr. Olin Hiebert, Language Arts Department head.

New this year was Advance Placement English. Eighteen students were enrolled in Mrs. Wilma Morse's fourth hour participation class and first and sixth hour APE study hours.

Studying all types of literature: novels, drama, and poetry, Mrs. Morse said, "The purpose of our course was to read intensely some of the great works in literature and to acquire the habit of developing a subject at deeper levels and presenting it in a paper."

Language Arts included English, drama, speech, debate, journalism, publications, college reading, English composition, special education, and humanities and involved reading, writing, speaking, and listening.

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD — Mrs. Nadine Ritchey, librarian discusses films of today with history teacher, Deb Johnson.

music only the Falcon best

NO MUSIC LIKE GOOD MUSIC and the Falcons had a reputation of presenting the best to appreciative concert audiences.

Air conditioning added new comfort to the music department this year. Installed last spring it provided year round comfort for music students.

Extra marching to keep those new members in line kept the band members practicing for entertaining shows at varsity games. Marching before, during, and after school made Heights 128-member band one of Wichita's finest precision drill organizations in the state.

Thirteen musicians were chosen to be in the Wichita Junior and Senior Youth Symphonies. They were seniors Dana Scheer, violin; Virginia Arzinger, oboe; Marla Graves, bassoon; Don Martin, clarinet; juniors Jocelyn Pierpont, violin; Mike Powell, trombone; Steve Imbler, trombone; and sophomores Mike Prokes, violin; and Debra Unruh, violin.

The junior symphony members were juniors Debra Hardy, violin; Frankie Gray, violin; Denise Schraer, clarinet and sophomore Larry Hensley, violin.

For the first time the 83-member concert choir made an out-of-city tour. Planned early in the fall the vocalists were scheduled to appear at two schools for performances.

Mr. Charles Lawson — Fine Arts Head, Instrumental Music

Mr. Wayne J. Holmstrom — Vocal Music

Miss Mary Jabara — Drama, Speech

Mr. Richard Barnes — Debate, Speech

Miss Diana Pattan — English

Mrs. Marie Nixon — Librarian

foreign languages widens users views

LOVE is "amor" in Room 104. In Room 107 it's "liebe". In Room A8 it's "l'amour," and in Room 105, again it's "amor."

For first year students, studying a new language was brain racking . . . but, as the year progressed and they learned the basic fundamentals, a sense of achievement replaced frustration.

Second year students found it not quite so difficult as their first year. Research papers, seeing films, and listening to records helped, nevertheless, it demanded more intense study . . . more hours of preparation and practice.

Third and fourth year students extended their knowledge by reading some of the literary works and doing research papers on some of the country's great artists, writers, and leaders.

Mr. Ronald Johnson — American History, World History, Government, Current Affairs

Mr. Louis Rogers — Physics, Basic Math, Trig, Analytic Geometry

Mr. Gerhard Nickel — German, Geology, Astronomy, Basic Science

Mrs. Jeannine Criss — French

Mrs. Rose Marie Estill — Spanish

Mrs. Truly E. Yust — Latin, Humanities, Introduction to Art

Mrs. Mary Highsmith — Business Math, Special Education

Mrs. Carrie Walters — English, Special Education

art

adds to culture, growth

AN ART DEPARTMENT "on its toes" kept students interested in its many offerings all year.

Watercolor, acrylic, pastel, pencil, charcoal, and oil were just part of the media that made up the visual artistic experience of the budding artist.

Teachers initially reduced art into its more basic elements: perspective, value, color theory, structure, and composition. After understanding these basic skills the students were directed in to more diverse areas.

Preparing for exhibitions kept the department on its toes. Heights was well represented at the National Scholastics Art Exhibition in the Wichita City Library as well as those at the Twin Lakes Shopping Center, the Board of Education Conference Room, Southwestern National Bank, and the Stairway Gallery at Wichita State University.

An important project carried out this year was the stained-glass window created by chosen art students. The window gave a special accent to the Art Department hall.

Photography was a welcome addition to the art curriculum. Several students learned how to handle equipment as well as develop and print pictures. After acquiring these skills they made an animated cartoon film.

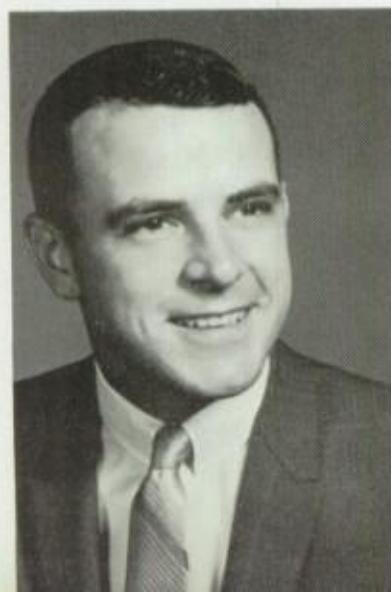

Mr. Tom Phillippe — Ceramics, Crafts, Introduction to Art

Mr. Paul Waner — Painting, Design

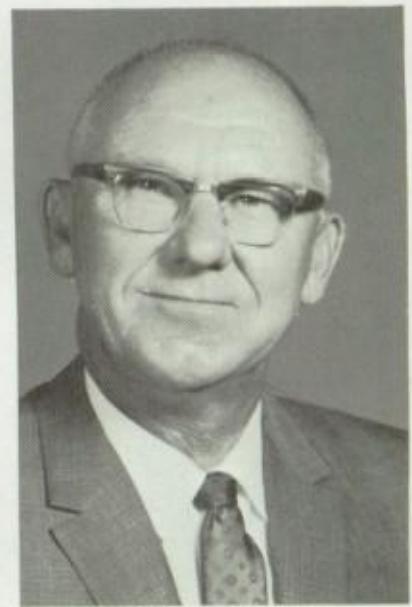

Mr. John Criss — Drivers Education

Mr. John Swearningin — Geometry, Basic Math

Mr. Mose Stucky — Algebra

Mr. Carl Tilley — Basic Math, Geometry

mathematics

wasn't as easy as pie

EACH SCHOOL YEAR students step into math class unaware of the work and study that lies ahead. By mid-year they find the Pythagorean Theorem or quadratic equations not so difficult after all.

Wanting to learn in order to learn was required for success, and math was no exception. After first conquering the basic steps of math it became easier.

A variety of courses from basic math to the more ambitious courses were offered like trigonometry and analytical geometry. Two classes of basic math, six classes of Algebra I, six classes of Algebra II, seven classes of geometry, two classes of trigonometry and analytical geometry, plus two classes of physics were opened to hopeful mathematicians.

There was time to think ... to analyze ... to work out problems, both math and personal, in a systematic way. Some chose to take more advanced courses, others found math wasn't their specialty — always a life problem.

Math helped all enrollees solve everyday problems. How many gallons of gas was needed to go on a football trip? It took math to figure budgets for school activities. The steps for proving theorems helped students analyze and prove their points.

Basic math courses were necessary for students taking chemistry.

Without math how could one figure how to feed eleven people equally from one pie?

Mr. Clark Herrin — Algebra, Basic Math

Mr. Ralph Hoagland — Algebra

Mrs. Vera Hunter — Short-hand, Office Practice

Mr. Keith Wilson — Business Department Head, Typing, Bookkeeping

Mr. Robert Eckstrom — Salesmanship, Shorthand, Business Courses

Mrs. Wilma Paltanavage — Typing, Clerical Training, Business Courses

business becomes modernized

A WALL REMOVED . . . seventy-two typewriters in one room . . . a mike set up in front of the room with speakers in the back . . . electronic units for each student . . . such were the renovations in Room 112 this year.

By using a head phone and three sets of tapes, the typing classes were able to progress at their own speed.

Overhead projectors and business forms to work out, the bookkeeping classes attempted to grasp the fundamental process of bookkeeping and accounting.

Civil Service tests were given to all seniors enrolled in shorthand and typing this year. The test, consisting of a five minute take in both shorthand and typing, enabled the girls with high scores to obtain government jobs.

Courses offered in business included Shorthand I, Typing I and II, bookkeeping, salesmanship, clerical training, office practice, introduction to business, business law and communication, and accounting.

science holds something for all

VARIETY, yet something for everyone, was what 750 students discovered in science classes.

Aeronautics students, averaging 25 each semester, took the required 60-hour ground school course-then the flight training. Big thrill came when qualified students flew the triangular course from Wichita to Anthony to Strother Field, Winfield, then home.

In basic classes students sampled and skimmed the surface of most sciences. From this exposure they were able to choose future science courses.

Ecology — the relationship of man to his environment — was the theme in biology. Students counted yeast cells and found the yeast colony population count.

Making and measuring gas, working with molds, making silver trees, determining unknown solutions, and studying oxygenation and reduction kept over 70 amateur chemists busy in the lab.

Mr. William Judd — Science Department Head, Chemistry, Basic Science, Aeronautics

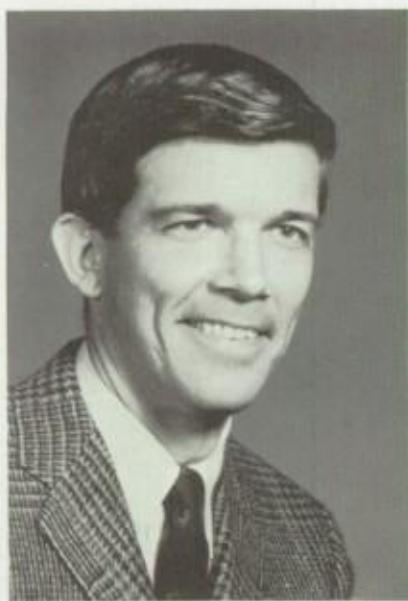

Mr. Lewis Hitch — Biology, Physiology

Mr. Harold Mast — Biology, Zoology

Mr. Sherman C. Nystrom — Biology

Mr. Deb Johnson — U.S. History, Social Studies Seminar, Current Events

Mr. Jack Reid — Government, Russian History

Mrs. Jane Ware — Sociology, U.S. History

Mrs. Donna Copley — Psychology, U.S. History

home economics enrolls boys too

NEWEST ADDITION in home economics this year?
BOYS!

For the first time boys were permitted to enroll in home and family relations class.

"Becoming Involved" and "What Holds a Marriage Together?" were topics discussed dealing with home and family problems.

Child development was basically concerned with care and better understanding of children. During the first three weeks of December students conducted a child day school.

Girls in clothing classes learned to distinguish the different types of fibers and look for the best quality when buying materials. Each also learned to select the line, color, and design most complimentary to her size and shape.

From Room 17 came the delicious aromas of food being prepared by the members of food classes.

Not only were the "hows" of cooking taught to the girls but also the "whys" were explained.

social science tunes in current issues

CONSTANT POLITICAL and social changes in the world today made it vitally important that all people be well informed about government and its operation.

Overhead projectors centered on screens . . . projectors buzzed as film ran through . . . newspapers crackled as curious students kept abreast of the Apollo 7 and 8 flights and the local, state, and national elections . . . term papers required library research.

Juniors jumped into the sea of American history starting with Columbus. After exciting excursions through the settling of America, the Civil War, the Depression, the World Wars, they focused on the Humphrey — Nixon — Wallace campaigns, as well as the Docking — Harman gubernatorial race.

Gradually the human kaleidoscope began to take form as students delved into psychology, economics, government, geography . . . a wonderful changing pattern.

Mrs. Peggy McAvenia — Foods

Mrs. Margaret Skewes — Home Economics Department Head, Family Relations, Clothing, Home Furnishings

Mrs. Jean Temming — Clothing

Mrs. Georgia Christmas — Child Development, Clothing

Mr. Shiu Shankar — World History, World Geography, Current Events.

Mr. John Harrell — U.S. History, Psychology, Government.

Mr. Logan Guffey — Woodworking.

Mr. Roger K. Birckhead — Drafting, Pre-Engineering, Metals.

practical arts

gives practical training, preparation for jobs

PRE-ENGINEERING or architectural training was provided in Drafting I, II, III. Selection from these and their projects provided numerous experiences for the boys enrolled.

Auto mechanics was an education-type course for those interested in the basic fundamentals of auto construction and maintenance.

Auto information was offered, strictly dealing with the theory of all systems of the car.

Vocational auto mechanics was designed to train the students to be professional mechanics. The course covered all parts of the automobile engine — transmission as well as the electrical system.

New to the driver's ed department was the $38,000 driver trainer trailer. The "three-on-the-floor" trainers fed with coded film were able to detect speed, steering, turn signals, and braking mistakes. Teachers could turn a switch and empty the gas tank, making it impossible to start the engine.

Printing classes learned to use the offset press and metal master, then, from the experience they printed hall passes, envelopes, attendance slips, schedules, and programs for the school.

Wood working classes learned the basics of the trade by producing the four required projects — a cutting board, a small chest, a tool holder, and a spice shelf.

Mr. James E. Fowler — Printing, Drafting, Woodworking.

Mr. R. F. Tackett — Auto Information, Auto Mechanics, Metals.

Vocational welding provided on-the-job-training for welders making tables for the shop gave them needed experiences.

Metal working with machines rather than the hand processes was the objective of the metals classes.

Mr. Eldon Zimbelman — Vocational Auto Mechanics.

Mr. Oren Smith — Vocational Welding, Welding, Metals.

Mr. Jack L. Mahan — U.S. History, Driver Education.

Mr. Jim Lininger — Driver Education.

physical education

coordinates mind, body

"ONE-TWO, three-four, two-two, three-four" was chanted again and again each period in the gym as 370 girls and 498 boys zipped through conditioning exercises.

Of the girl's classes, the third hour was the largest with 85 girls, while the first hour was the smallest with 43 girls. Fall sports for girls were speedaway and field hockey. Swimming, basketball, volleyball, and gymnastic skills were among the winter sports. They traveled to Crestview Bowling Alley once every week in buses where exciting bowling games took place.

As spring and warm weather came, the girls met out-of-doors for softball and track after a 10-minute exercise period in the gym.

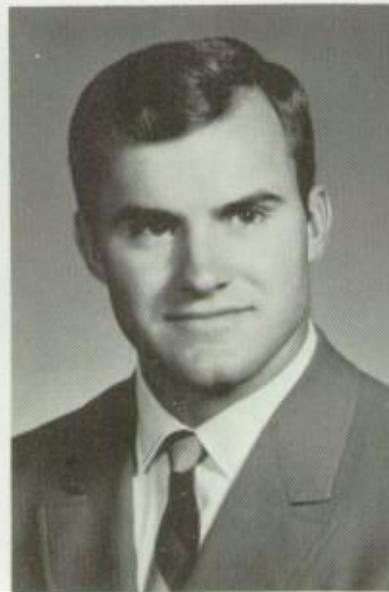

Boys' gym included almost one third of the enrollment of the entire school. The largest class, third hour, had 133. First hour was the smallest with 45.

Although the boys had an adequate number of lockers, many were in need of repair. Some of the older lockers could easily be "popped" open, so a plea was put in to the BOE for locker repair and more lockers.

In the fall flag football and soccer, during the winter basketball, volleyball, line soccer, and football were their competitive games.

Mr. Fred L. Simmons — Physical Education Department Head, Director of Athletics.

Mr. Hugh Nicks — Basic Science.

Mr. Jack Kater — Physical Education.

C. Dee Gard — Physical Education.

library

opens doors to learning

SET UP as an instructional materials center, for use of books, audio-visual equipment and materials, the library served as an open door to learning for all students.

Most popular with the adventurous were books of fiction, enabling the reader to escape into the world of the unknown. Social science and biography were favorites of the more studious.

Newest addition to the many machines available in the library was the 107 Dry Copier. With it, students were able to make negative reproduction pages from books and magazines for 10¢, aiding classroom reporting.

Eighteen library assistants were kept busy filing the 11,511 books, 231 of them new. About 300 more volumes were placed on shelves later in the year.

Over-head projectors, tape recorders, record players, micro-film readers, and projectors helped aided the faculty in compiling class materials.

Searching for term paper information or simply for recreational reading purposes, students found the independent first and sixth hour study classes, besides before and after school, a helpful opportunity to delve into the vast resources of knowledge.

Mrs. Nadine Ritchey — Librarian.

Mrs. Ruth Karban — Sociology, Government.

Miss Jean Drake — Physical Education.

Mrs. Luann McDowell — Physical Education.

cafeteria specialists

feeding famished Falcons keeps staff busy

HUNGER stalked the Falcons long before fourth hour each day. Aware of this, Mrs. Kieferle and her 23 expert cooks began preparing tempting dishes at 6:45

Mrs. Thelma Kieferle, Food Service Manager.

CASHIERS — Mrs. Bernice Kerns and Mrs. Jean Epp smiled, clicked the adding machines, and took the money for the food.

a.m. Many were started the day before.

Arriving at 6:15 a.m. Mrs. Kieferle's duties, included ordering supplies two weeks in advance from the central warehouse, meeting the daily schedules of preparation in the "large scale" kitchens, carrying out the pre-planned menus from downtown, and serving the famished students and faculty.

Including the snack bar, cafeteria workers prepared and served 1,500 meals at Heights each day. They catered an additional 450 meals to Ingalls Elementary School.

A total of 850-900 meat servings per day, 450 desserts, 125 salads, 100 glasses of orange juice, over 800 rolls, 420 orders of mashed potatoes, 650 cartons of milk, and approximately 1,350 individual items were sold at the snack bar when students flocked the cafeteria at 10-minute intervals, six times during the fourth hour lunch period which ended at 12:50.

Retiring for the day at approximately 2:30, after 3-7 1/2 hours of work, the cooks left for their homes — only to return again the next morning bright and early.

SNACK BAR — food of malts, cokes, barbeques, and dagwoods served by Mrs. Jesse Smith, Mrs. Della Gifford, Mrs. Vloyce Veldhausen, and Mrs. Carola Baker were Falcon favorites.

control center

offices hum as clerks check Falcon records

PROBLEMS FACED students and they knew where to go — the Activities Office where two clerks could help them.

SPECIALISTS — (seated) Mrs. Nita Calamaio and Mrs. Susan Dykhuizen, Activity Office clerks. (standing) Mrs. Gloria Small, Business Aide; Mrs. Helen Davis, Library Assistant.

HUNGRY — after a busy morning tending to the campus Mr. Jim Upchurch, grounds supervisor, and his assistant Mr. Elvin Rogers take time out for lunch.

they keep the statistics

PASSING by the Big Office on the way to classes this year, few perhaps noticed four busy secretaries working in the nerve center of Heights.

Private secretary to Dr. Robert E. Anderson, Mrs. Mary Lafferty also served as the school's bookkeeper and financial secretary.

Mrs. Cleda Marlow was kept busy as personal secretary for Assistant Principals Jerry Bailey and C. S. Ebert. She also worked on data processing and transportation schedules.

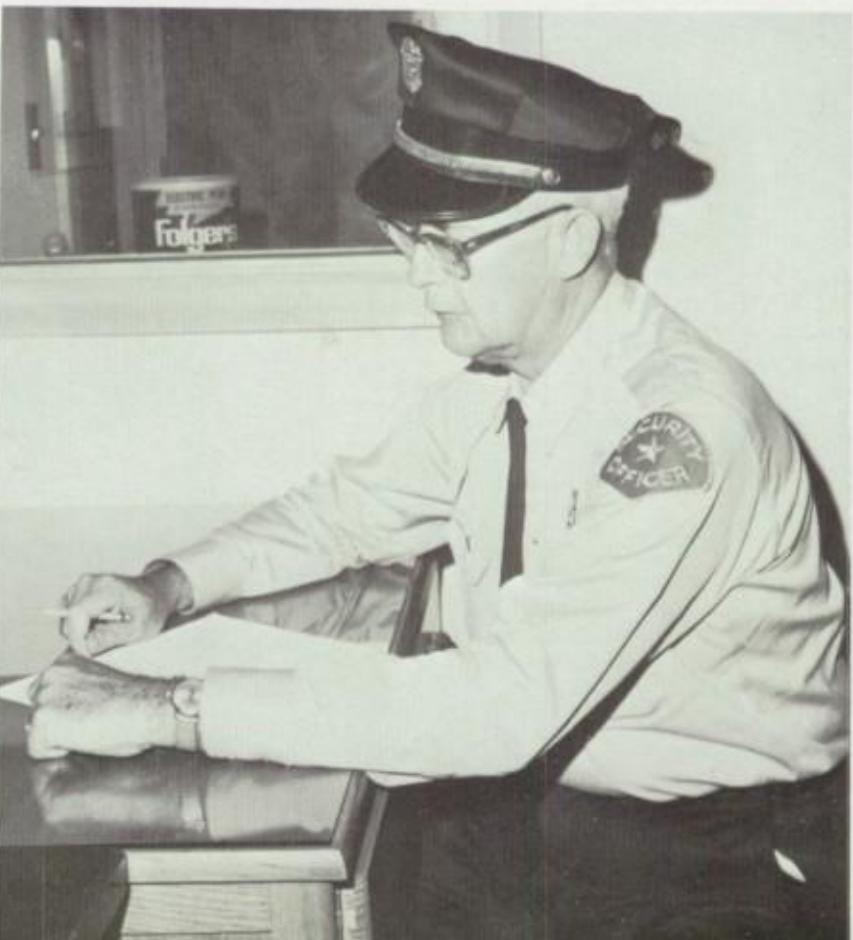

As part of her work as registrar, Mrs. Bonnie Weir prepared player eligibility lists. She did numerous other office tasks — many of which had to be done each day.

Despite the constant flow of traffic in this area Mrs. Nita Calamaio and Mrs. Susan Dykhuizen had to keep up with their many clerical duties as well.

Mrs. Calamaio, secretary to the three counselors, supervised students operating the duplicating machines, she was in charge of junior ring orders as well as senior cap and gown orders. Many were the reports she had to type ... sometimes it was a wonder she could flash her ever ready smile as her work piled up, but she did.

Mrs. Dykhuizen, secretary to Athletic Director Fred Simmons, did clerical work for Nurse Earnestine Faldtz, distributed and collected for student picture packets, sold pre-game tickets to students, and typed numerous reports. She often borrowed time to answer the many questions students flung at her.

SECURITY GUARD — J. L. Leland checks reports at his office desk. Mr. Leland, new to Heights this year, started his duties September 9.

NURSE — Earnestine Faldtz and her proctor Shelly Dean, '69, check records.

CHECKING — Falcon eyes must be sharp.

HEAR IT? — alert ears help too.

full-time nurse

see Falcons are fit

FOR THE FIRST year Mrs. Earnestine Faldtz, school nurse, spent the entire day each week keeping Falcons bright and healthy. Before this year she was only here part time.

Her major duty, as school nurse, was to provide emergency care for the students who were involved in accidents or became ill.

Most common complaints of students were of headaches and stomachaches. Students having reactions from medications, without realizing it, needed her help many times.

custodians

keep everything shiny

BECAUSE OF the attractive landscaping and the immaculate halls and corridors, proud Falcons will always remember Heights.

Mr. Jim Upchurch and his assistant Mr. Elvin Rogers worked tirelessly to keep the campus beautiful, many recognized it as the neatest campus in the city.

Mr. Larry Underwood and his crew kept the Falcon halls sparkling and neat at all times. Addition of four more portables increased their work.

ELECTRICIAN — Mr. Roy Harrison

action proves success

"I THINK WE can be assured that this year will be the most productive yet, for we all seek a common goal, the success of the Student Council," Kim Richey, Student Council president.

Productive they were! September brought the traditional Falcon Week. Hosting Student Council Workshop during Falcon Week brought added duties to council members who carried the responsibility well.

"Mr. Falcon", Vicki Cocke, '69, was elected by Stuco in the fall. An amendment was written and added to the constitution concerning the election and duties of the school mascot.

The dress code committee, consisting not only of Council members but other students as well, produced a new dress code.

March of Dimes Bread Sale, with 40 Stuco members participating, was successful in collecting $229 in donations.

To wind up a successful year, the Student Council supervised spring elections for next year's Council.

TALON STAFF — (sitting) K. Troll, G. Arzinger, T. Givens, V. Cocke. (standing) S. Melson, R. MacMillan, C. Kennedy, N. Cain.

HERE IT IS — The Talon '69. Not only is it larger, 9x12, in size than any other previous yearbook (they were 8x10), but more candids and fun pictures are offered.

Highlights for the year included the crowning of Talon King Brent Knott and Queen Rubie Carliss at the Christmas dance, selling student directories, "The Hotline", selling new autograph inserts for the book, and finally the Talon '69 distribution in May.

The week of December 9-13 was hectic as the voting (a penny per vote, silver and currency subtracted) for the Talon '69 King and Queen took place. From 16 boys and 16 girls, seniors, the student body selected 5 boys and 5 girls.

Jennifer MacMillan headed "The Hotline" production, while Vicki Cocke designed its cover.

The staff hopes you enjoy something they worked on for six months to present you as a living memory of the 1968-69 school year.

CROPPING — their specialty — Editor Saundra Webb (seated) with Jennifer MacMillan, assistant editor, and Debbie DeVore, associate editor (all seniors), waded through stacks of printed pictures selecting the best ones to appear in this, your Talon '69.

PHOTOGRAPHERS — Keith Kiser, '69, and Steve Denny, '70, captured candid shots and took semi-posed pictures with their Yashikas or the Crown Graphic.

news expansion covers controversial issues

KEEPING students abreast of school, local, state, and national issues by producing thirteen news-filled, controversial as well as thought-provoking issues was the main objective of the Highlighter staff which met the fifth hour in Room 122.

The 20 reporters watched for news in the making, gathered the information, compiled it in accurate, concise paragraphs, proofread it for mistakes, revised it, met deadlines, and spent Saturdays at the printer where they proofread the paper before the final distribution of copies each Monday to students holding 1,031 activity tickets.

Relaxation was rare . . . staff meetings, more stories, ever present deadlines prodded reporters onward, but news was abundant.

More student body members submitted controversial editorials and letters. They were given the opportunity to state their differences of opinion.

MORE IDEAS — for stories insist Assistant Editor Debbie Toddleson, '69, and Highlighter Editor Stephanie Finch, '69.

drama

acting appeals to 124

STARTING with the evening of Variety, November 21-22, the drama department began to roll with skits, blackouts, and take-offs from commercials. A special cutting of a one-act play, "Hope Is a Thing With Feathers," featured Charlie Brown and all of the other Peanuts characters. A take-off from "Laugh-In" featured the Party, similar to the one on TV.

Approximately 15 veteran performers returned this year to assist in making the drama department great as always.

Drama classes soared to a new high with three drama one classes totaling 97 students with combined drama two and three classes totaling 27 students.

thespians

Initiation, January 11, brought a variety of characters to life as Thespians donned costumes for the day. Mickey Mouse, Napoleon, Abraham Lincoln, Scarlett O'Hara, Huck Finn, Paul Revere, and even Hitler attended classes.

Spring initiation added more deserving Thespians to the roll.

"WHY CAN'T HE CATCH THE DUCK?" — demands Bill Johnson, '69, of Morgan Patrick, '69, in the Evening of Variety, November 22-23.

"OOPS! SMEARED IT" — sighs Su Meadows, '69, as Jody List, '69, waits patiently.

"WHAT A THRILL BEING OLD" — Connie Courtney, '68, and Mike Davis, '68, illustrate it in the drama "Silver Whistle."

novices provide depth

DEBATING the proposition of "compulsory service for all citizens," the debaters have never before done so well, yet won so little to show for it. Backed by a very strong novice squad, the experienced squad compiled a season record of 109 wins and 52 losses. The season's highlight came when Marla Graves and Bill Hensley won the NFL State title. They will represent Kansas at the National NFL Tournament in Washington, D. C. this summer. Other trophy winners for the included Kim Richey, Neal Robinson, both experienced debaters and Cindy Dean, Peter Gray, Keith Richey, and Judy Zandt (all novices).

members add trophies

AFTER DEBATE season ended in January, over 35 National Forensics League members set out to add to the collection of trophies already won in previous competition.

At the state NFL meet, Bill Hensley and Marla Graves brought back to Heights a first place state trophy.

A new lectern for use at school assemblies, commencement, and other meetings was presented to the school last May by NFL members.

NFL, composed of the top debaters and forensic students, sponsored a debate and forensic tournament. Students also raised funds to help finance trips and service projects by running concession stands during football season.

Sponsors were Mr. Dick Barnes, debate, and Miss Mary Jabara, drama.

activities add interest

BECK — Business Education Club of Kansas, boasting 13 members held bake sales, apple, Christmas candle sales, and car tag sales to raise money for the club to attend the Emporia convention in March.

MEDICAL CAREERS — Making field trips and having guest speakers were among the activities of the Medical Careers Club members.

Students with a special interest in the field of medicine attended the March of Dimes Youth Conference in Topeka and the Sedgwick County Health Department. They toured St. Francis Hospital and the Halstead Health Museum also.

FBLA — Twenty-two members of the Future Business Leaders of America learned methods of salesmanship and public speaking in order to prepare for state contests.

Plans for Mr. and Mrs. FBLA, teenage businessmen and women, were drawn up during the first semester.

ART CLUB — Highlighting the year was the trip to the Kansas City Art Museum and the Hallmark Card Company in Lawrence.

CHESS CLUB — Strategy, patience, and concentration were among the skills required to play the game of chess. Eighteen members of the Chess Club met, practiced, and competed for best chessman in preparation for City meets.

FTA — Touring the Institute of Logopedics, attending the state workshop in Topeka, holding a bake sale, and a special service project, sending money to an orphanage, were some of the activities shared by the 25 members of the Future Teachers of America.

foreign clubs enjoy active, fun-filled year

SPANISH CLUB members enjoyed an active year. Their first meeting centered around a guest speaker who showed slides of a trip to Mexico. Their Christmas party included guests from the North High Spanish Club. Celebrating All-American Day in April and having a Spanish Club bake sale with a banquet ended their fun-filled year.

GERMAN KLUB members participated in the carnival sponsored by Student Council and at the end of the year held their annual dinner.

FRENCH CLUB members also enjoyed festivities of a Christmas party. They also had a booth in the Student Council sponsored carnival.

LATIN CLUB members sponsored an Indian Dance in November at which approximately 200 people attended. Members celebrated Christmas by having a fireside Christmas party. In February they celebrated the Roman holiday Lupercalia. They ended their year's activities with a Roman banquet in the cafeteria.

Falcons proudly march in presidential parade.

EYES ALERT, all in step the 131-piece Falcon band let the crowd gathered along Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D.C. know "We're from Kansas — good old Kansas where the great big sunflowers grow" when they proudly marched in President Nixon's inaugural parade, January 20.

Highlighting the year, the trip had to be earned. Early morning marching, and near zero weather, and marching during Christmas vacation prepared the band physically for the cold weather in D.C. Selling stationery, candy, dinner tickets, balloons, and having a carnival provided part of the funds for the trip. Donations came from many groups, individuals, and businesses.

It was worth it all, for memories of the inauguration, seeing many historical spots in the capital, and the jet ride to and from Washington, D.C. proved to be an out-of-the ordinary experience for the band members.

The district festival, the spring musical and their finale, commencement, ended the year's activities.

concert choir 'best' announces mr. holmstrom

OVER 250 students enrolled in the vocal department in sophomore choir, mixed chorus, madrigals, and concert choir kept director Mr. Wayne Holmstrom busy.

"The concert choir is probably the best choir that I've had," said Mr. Holmstrom.

Appearances at Pleasant Valley and Brooks Junior High Schools by the "select group" provided entertainment during the Christmas holidays and at Homecoming ceremonies.

Concerts in October and December helped provide funds, along with left-over money from the marching band's trip to Washington, D. C., to supply the music department with two of the much needed choral shells which will be used by the orchestra also.

Spring plans included a one day trip to two other city schools, singing at graduation in May, music festivals, and the spring musical. The City music festival, March 29, and the state music festival in April provided competition for the choir, ensembles, and individual soloists.

Madrigals, consisting of 20 students, sang selections from the Renaissance Period, Broadway hits, folk songs, pop tunes, and contemporary music. Entertaining for civic and community organizations, school groups, Christmas parties and for the Veteran's hospital were among the twelve appearances made by the group during Christmas time.

pep club

volume, size, new uniforms rate top billing

A RED and black sea of Pep Club uniforms overflowed bleachers at each football or basketball game during the year — this was the largest Pep Club, 350, to ever cheer on the Falcons to fighting fever. And they held nothing back — appreciative, thunderous cheers rose for a first-in-ten, a field goal, or a good play. Varsity cheerleaders asked and the club responded ... "Fight on, Falcons!"

New uniforms gave the pepsters a special pride — red jumpers were worn with black sweaters and black knee socks, black and white saddle shoes topped with red or black berets.

Weekly poster parties — fall, winter, and spring — spread enthusiasm and courage to Falcon athletes when walking through the Commons Area and the corridors before games.

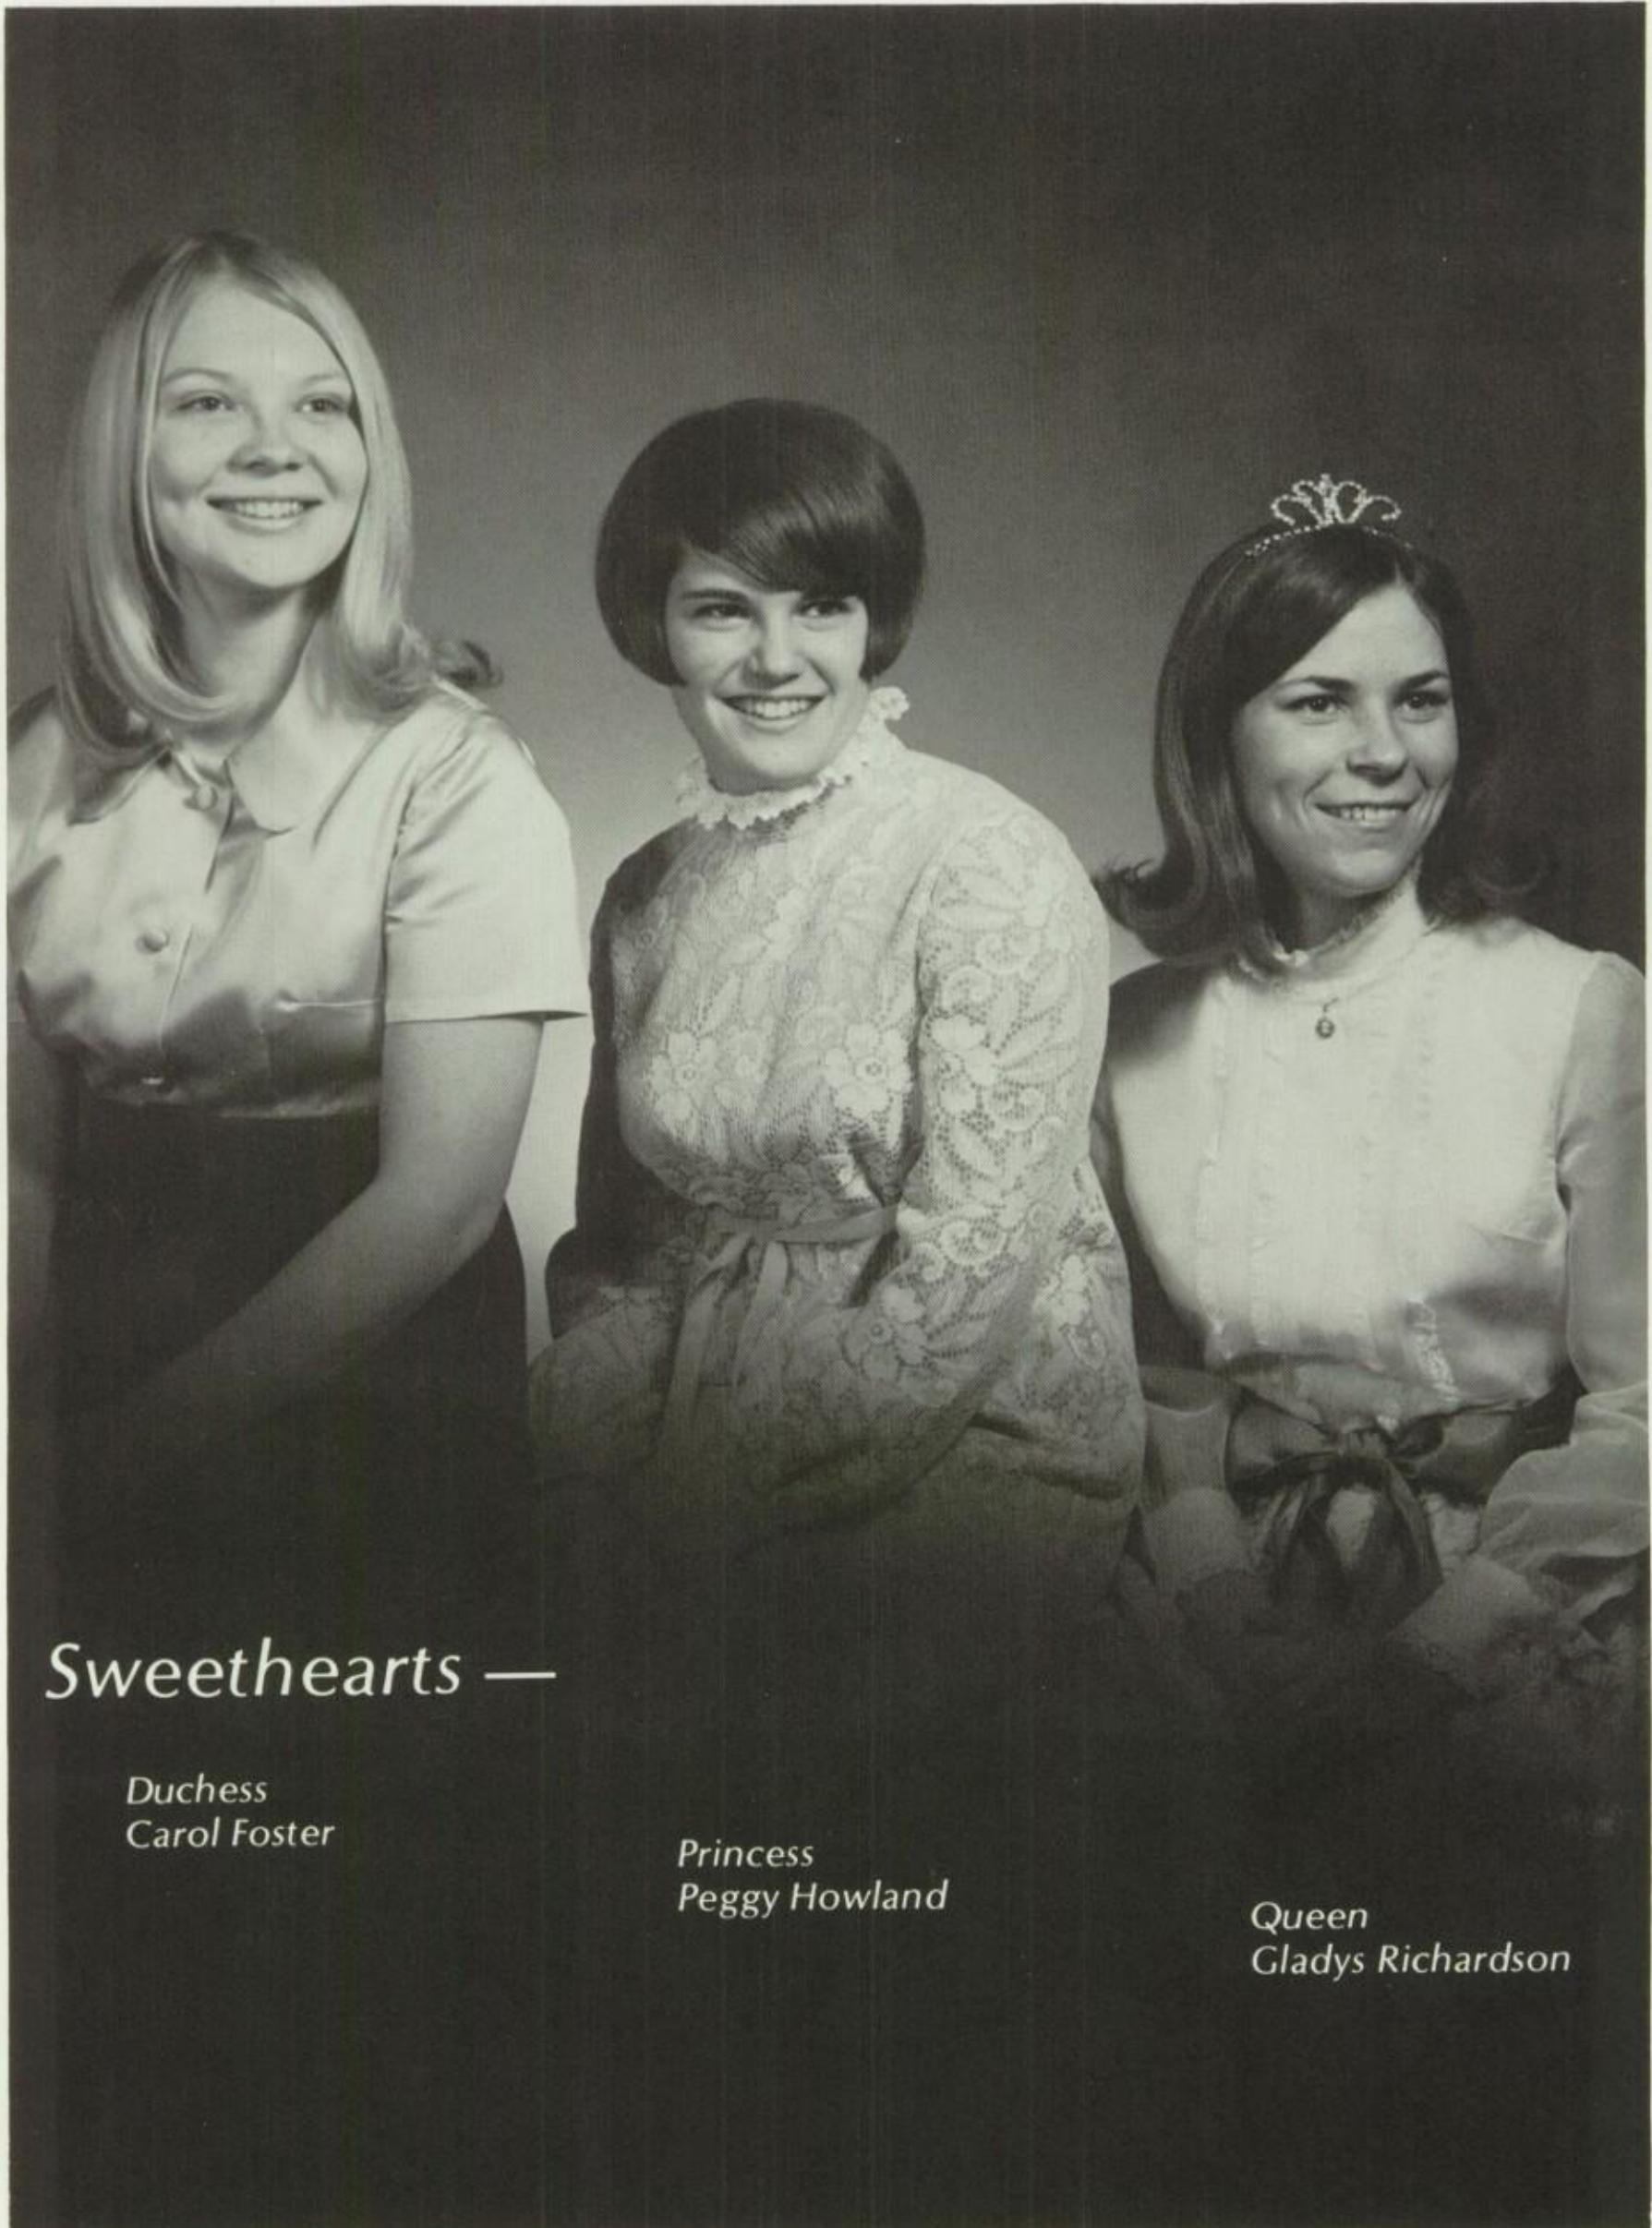

Dad's night during football and basketball seasons, Homecoming, the Sweetheart dance, and numerous pep assemblies united the Falcons and provided excitement, spirit, variety which highlighted the sports seasons.

wins over carroll and east highlight season

BEATING EAST — for the first time in school history highlighted the '68 football season. The Falcons finished with a 2-win 7-loss slate.

Despite the losing season, many individual awards were won by Falcons players, junior Steve Anderson was selected All-City first team defense and second team offense as well as gaining an honorable mention berth on the All-Area team and All-State team.

Senior Doug Lunt cinched a berth on the second team on both offense and defense, while 260-pound tackle Geary Murdock earned a second team berth on offense. Juniors David Nigg and Fred Love made the honorable mention team.

A superb job of calling plays and passing won senior quarterback Bill Bates the Eagle and Beacon Back of the Week award in the Falcons 19-6 victory over East. Gaining 82 yards on 10 carries gave Love the best individual rushing effort of the year.

Twenty-six tackles and assists against Carroll won Anderson the Beacon Lineman of the Week honor.

Doug Lunt was voted by teammates as the squads most valuable player.

basketball

tops all previous years

BEST RECORD in Falcon basketball history was set this year regardless of regional tournament results at Henry Levitt Arena, March 4 and 7. The Falcons were No. 2 in CL play.

Sporting a 16-3 record in season play and a 11-3 City League slate topped last year's 14-7 finish (including all games).

For four weeks the Falcons were rated No. 2 in the state on the Wichita Eagle-Beacon poll. This stirred within the Falcons the possibility of a state championship.

Upending No. 2 state ranked Wichita North, 52-45, in a crucial League game started "let's win state" talk.

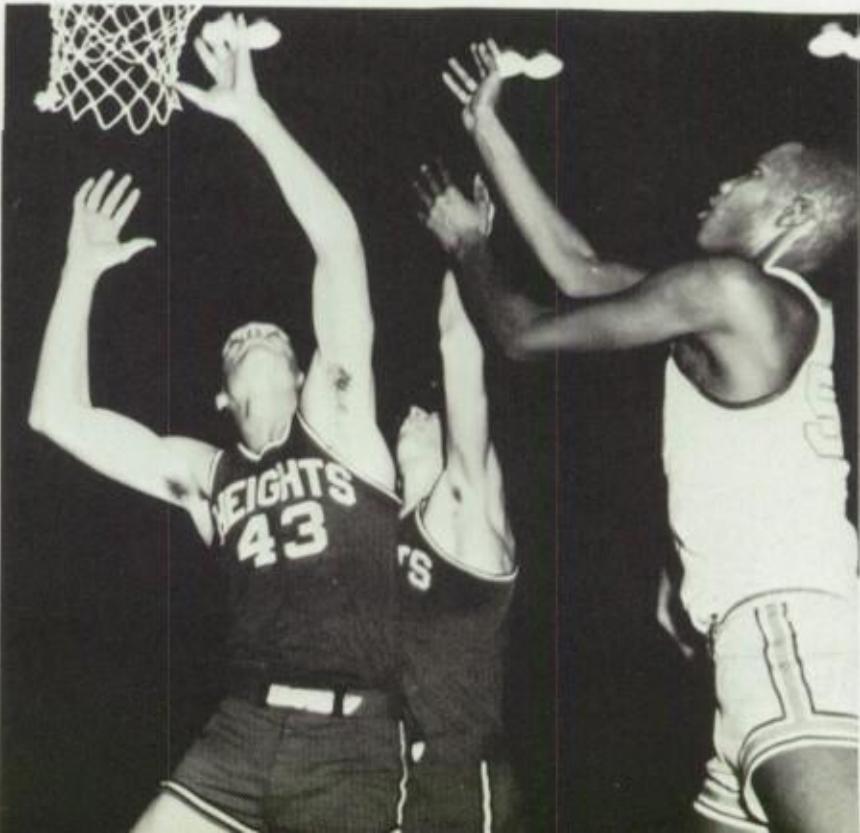

Southeast, consistently rated No. 1 in state rankings, was the only team the Falcons bowed to during regular season play until the final game of the season when West upset the Falcons, 52-50, on the Falcon court.

wrestlers

win cl title fifth time

UNDEFEATED in regular season matches, the Falcon wrestlers walked off with their fifth consecutive City League title.

By smashing Bishop Carroll, 30-12, on the Eagles home mats, January 14, in the title showdown, the Falcons clinched victory No. 6 and the City crown.

Before entering statewide competition the wrestlers had notched eight dual victories and two tournament championships.

Traveling to Campus to grapple in what Coach Dee Gard and the Wichita Eagle tabbed as the "toughest district in the state," the Heights matmen landed 11 wrestlers in the regional meet and finished second behind Arkansas City.

The Falcon matmen finished third in an equally tough regional and closed out the season with a fourth place finale at the state tournament in El Dorado.

Seniors Doug Lunt and Geary Murdock finished the season with perfect 24-0 records and state championships to their credit.

Doug, winning the crown in the 127-pound class last year, copped his second consecutive state title competing in the 133-pound class.

Geary, wrestling in the heavy weight division, won his first state championship. He was the first heavy-weight from Heights to win a state title.

gymnastics

finishes sixth in state

HIGHEST FINISH in a state meet, most dual meet victories, and best finish in the city race marked a successful '68-'69 gymnastics season.

Senior Alan Burke and Johnny Sanders were the lone point getters in a state meet sixth place finish. Burke wound up the season with third place honors in both free exercise and tumbling. Sanders added a fifth on the long horse vault and sixth in tumbling.

Coach Jack Mahan claimed all season the Falcons were at least the second best team in the City, second only to state runner-up and city meet champion South.

The Falcons proved Mahan's belief in the city meet edging East by 1 1/6 points for the runner-up position.

The three dual meet victories were over West, North, and Southeast. Last year the gymnasts won two.

swimmers

place second in state

CAPTURING second place in the state meet in Lawrence, February 15, gave the Falcons their best swim record in history.

Vernon Smith, '69, was the only individual double winner to cop two gold medals. The All-American nominee set a new record in the 50-yard freestyle, 22.1, and won the 100-yard free style in 49 flat.

Senior Marc Wagoner won his gold medal with a 4:04.9 timing in the 50-yard freestyle, while Chris Holmer, '69, was clocked 54.9 in the butterfly for his state first.

Smith owned the best times in the state this season in five events: the 50, 100, 200 freestyle, the 100 butterfly, and the 200 individual medley.

Seven juniors and two sophomores qualified for the state meet too.

AT MEETS — Coach J. Swearngin expects the best from his swimmers and gets it.

ALL-AMERICAN NOMINEE — Vernon Smith, '69, shatters the state 50-yard 22.3 timing with his 22.1 clocking in the 50-yard freestyle.

THEY'RE OFF — Steve Lee, '69, leads the pack in the mile run at the North Invitational.

track squad sets 7 new records

RUNNERS up in the regional meet at Veterans Field, May 10-11, with 31 points qualified eight boys for the state meet at Salina. This and breaking seven school records — the mile run (4:27.5), two-mile run (9:45.8), the high jump (6'2"), the triple jump (42'3"), the medley relay (3:42.3), the mile relay (3:42.3), and the two-mile relay (8:22.2) gave Falcon thin clads the best season in track since Heights first competed in 1962.

Outstanding Falcon miler Steve Lee broke two records, the mile and two-mile runs.

Replacing Coach Mose Stucky as head coach, Mr. Jim Lininger had 15 returning lettermen among them, five who qualified for the state in the '68 season.

Seniors Geary Murdock, shot put; Brent Knott, high hurdles; Louis Strother, long jump; Rocky Gillenwater, pole vault; Steve Lee, mile, all state qualifiers formed the nucleus of the '69 track squad.

BATTING — for first are Newt Mundy, '68, and Mike O'Leary, '68, at the Heights Relays.

cross country

harriers take regional

EARNING FIRST place trophy in the regionals at Echo Hills made the harriers the most successful cross country team in Falcon history. Captain Steve Lee came in fourth. With only three returning lettermen (Doug Lee, Kenny Barnett, and Steve Lee) the Falcon team captured another first place at the Hutchinson Invitational. The Falcons captured two second place trophies. One, a repeat performance of last year, the West Invitational at Rolling Hills, and the Heights Invitational.

FOOT CARE — helps harriers win the regional.

EIGHTY TWO — runners start the grueling two-mile run at the North Invitational.

baseball

victory over north highlights '68 season

IMPROVING their 4 win-7 loss overall record as well as their 3-4 League record was the aim of the '69 Falcon nine when Ronal Johnson took over the coaching reins early in March.

Mr. Johnson, a member of the Wichita East coaching staff last year, replaced coach John Criss.

In the '68 season the Falcons beat the North Redskins (5-2), West Pioneers (10-9), East Aces (5-1), and Campus (9-7). They ended in sixth place in the final City League standings with a .429 percentage for the season.

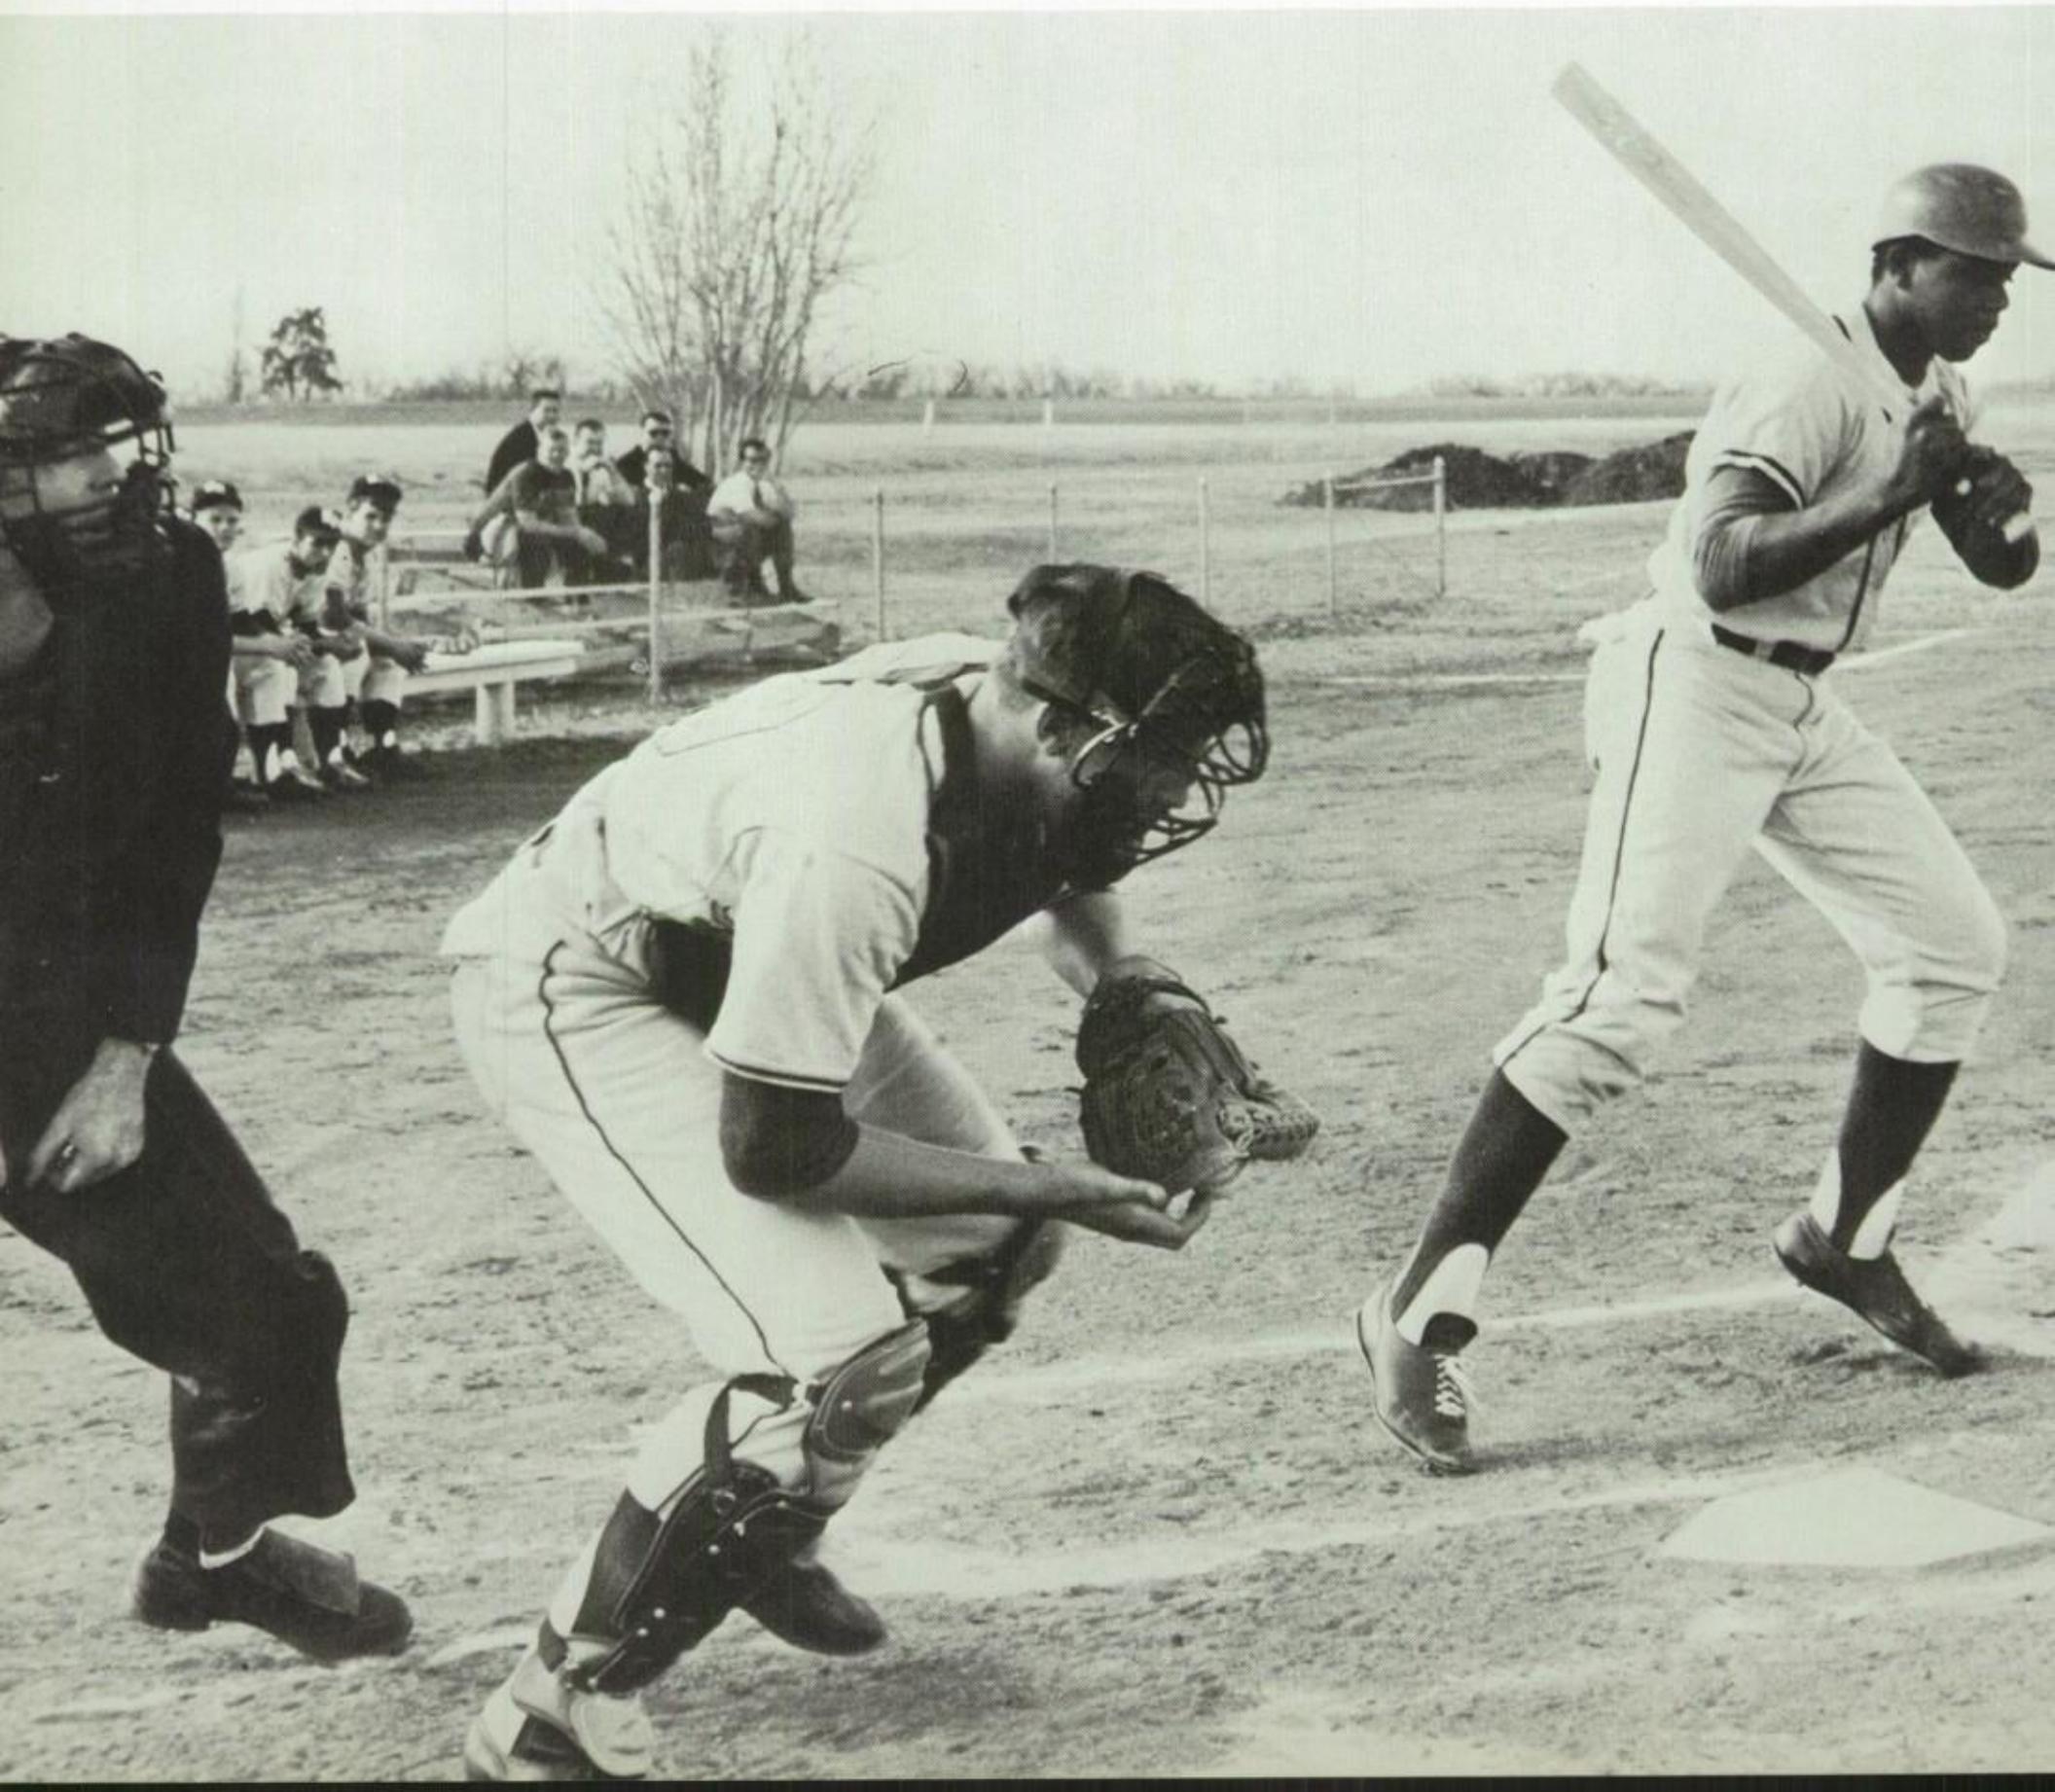

The Falcons advanced to the first game of the regional where they bowed to Newton, 5-12.

Most of the City games which the Falcons lost were close ones — state champs South beat the Falcons 4-3, Southeast 7-4, Carroll 11-5, and Kapaun 6-3. Perhaps the highlight of the season came when the Falcons beat North, 5-2.

BALL ONE — "That's the way to watch it! Carman," Leonard, '69, faces the Buff pitcher in a home game.

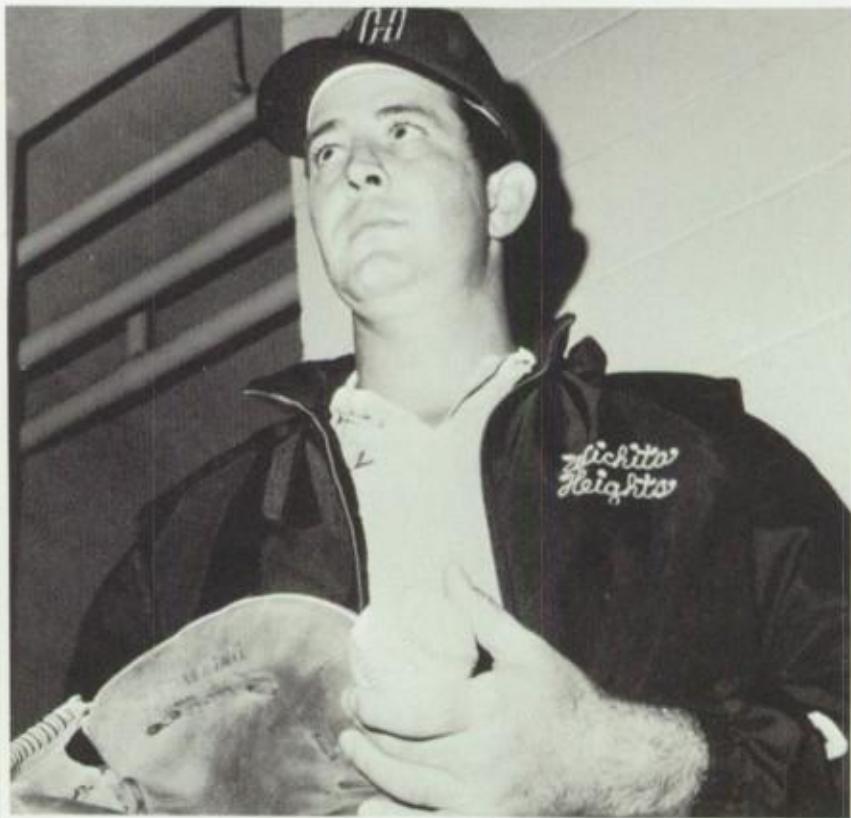

VARSITY BASEBALL — (Kneeling) A. Wilson, K. Kiser, B. Bates, L. Carman, G. Mohr, D. Lunt, R. Lee. (Standing) Coach J. Criss, R. Wellman, S. Anderson, D. Anderson, D. Stuart, J. Shea, B. Lunt, J. Mohr, L. Westbrook.

NEW COACH — Ronal Johnson took over the reins for the '69 season.

CRUCIAL MOMENT — bases loaded... score tied... tension mounts as the Buff's pitcher burns it over the plate.

TYPICAL SCENE — at Clapp Park where many League matches are played off.

golf

new season sets pace

GOLFERS under their new coach John Criss, who was head baseball mentor last spring, had three lettermen around which to build their '69 season.

Lettermen seniors Kim Richey and Clark Carrier, along with junior Bob Goehring were experienced team members.

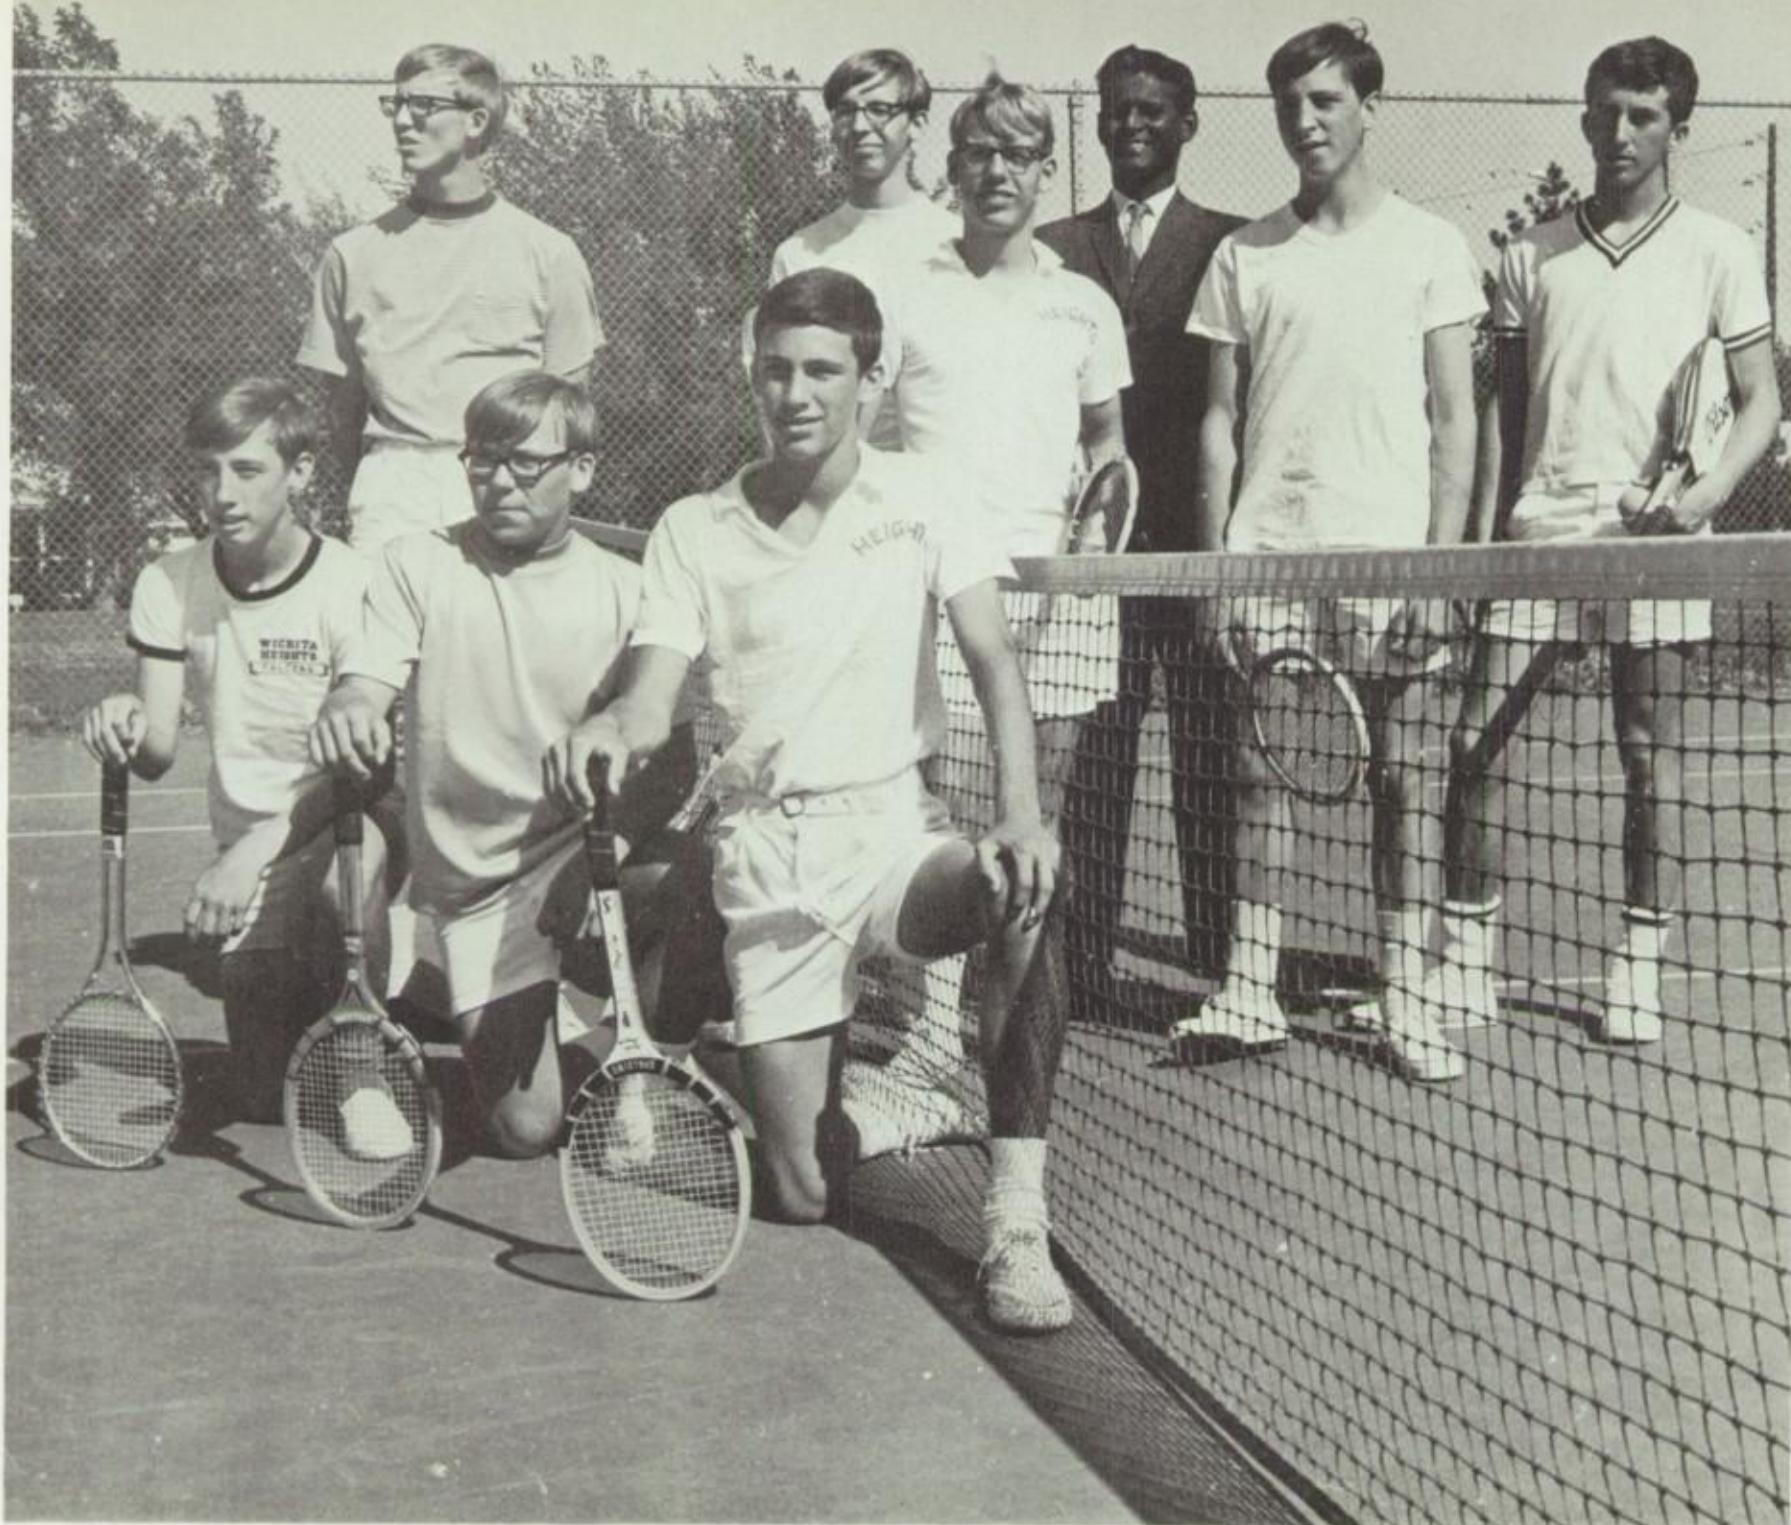

Any win in the Spring of '69 would make the season better than last year's when the Falcon golfers finished with no dual wins. The 4-men team earned a fifth place finish in the CL meet in the Spring Valley Course and a ninth in the Arkansas City Regionals.

In the CL title four teams scrambled for top honors with Southeast coming out first, Kapaun and pre-season favorite West coming in second, and East fourth.

"TOO COLD — for practice today," says Coach John Criss to lettermen Bob Goehring, '70, and Clark Carrier, '69.

THE SWING — the hit and letterman Kim Richey, '69, goes to the next mound with his competitors at Clapp Park.

VARSITY TENNIS — (BOTTOM ROW) R. Burch, K. Morrison, K. Richey. • (TOP ROW) B. Frazier, A. Schirmer, G. Green, Coach S. Shankar, B. Beavers, S. Taylor.

tennis

lettermen bolster squad

WINS in singles and doubles but not matches resulted in a sixth place City League ranking for the '68 Falcon netmen.

Southeast won the CL race with Kapaun claiming runner-up. West was third.

Roger Nickel, '69, won his first two matches at the Dodge City regional downing his Dodge and North opponents but failed to survive the third round of play.

Returning lettermen for the '69 season were seniors Kenny Morrison, Roger Nickel, Stan Taylor, and junior Keith Richey.

Squadmen not in the pictures on this page, taken before practice in the WSU courts, were R. Nickel, M. Charlton, L. Ehrlich, and Z. Ruhl.

BULLING FOR THE BALL — hockey players Pam Hoch, '69, and Gail Cooley, '70, attempt to pass to their teammates seniors Wee Gee Harris and Bev Miller

girl's sports club some earn coveted H

ACTION, competition, companionship and fun, that's what the Girl Sports Club provides for its members, 35 girls.

Earning the distinguished "H" letter was not so easy. To receive the letter each girl was required to earn 1,000 points in A-team competition, 1,500 in a B-team, and 2,000 in C-team competition. This required a lot of hard work, practice, and loyalty.

Lack of facilities was the major difficulty faced by the girls. Forced to share gym facilities with the boys resulted in girls practicing wherever and whenever possible, however, volleyball practice took place at the Chisolm Trail Gym.

exuberant baby Falcons overflow corridors

IN A STATE of bewilderment sophomores enrolled in the cafeteria, August 20, had their pictures snapped in the drama pit, and surveyed the corridors locating lockers and classrooms to be sure they entered the right rooms the following Wednesday.

In contrast when May rolled around they were poised, sure, and eager to be juniors.

Baby Falcons wore signs before the Salina game, joined Pep Club, turned out in great numbers to make posters before games, 80 per cent voted for their class officers, had one dance, took the ITED and DAT tests, cringed when grade cards came out — then decided to do better.

Gradually the 626 sophomores grew used to Falcon ways, appreciated the beauty of the campus, joined in singing the Alma Mater and the Fight Song, helped elect royalty, walked instead of running in the halls, studied and rounded into proud Falcons.

After all, after next year they would be sophisticated seniors.

WE DID! — beat the East Aces and the junior posters helped. Frankie Gray made sure her name was on the list.

junior, spirit, enrollment, zip keeps soaring

LARGEST in more ways than one, the Class of '70 with 545 members was the first class to enter the Home of the Falcons as sophomores. Claiming 257 girls and 288 boys gave them a boost of 26 over the 519 enrolled in the previous year. Possibly this boost in population, helped give them the volume required to win and hold the spirit stick.

From the fighting juniors came many of the varsity athletes. One-third or over of the varsity football and swimming team members were from the Class of '70.

Ordering and receiving their class rings labeled the juniors higher on the superiority list. Finally came the junior-senior prom, the highlight and a proper ending of the school year.

Pausing for a quarter-rest, then September 1969 will roll around soon. It will be a time for the Class of '70 to run the all-important race in another memorable year.

neat, cool seniors enjoy a 'just right' year.

WE WERE TUFF, cool, boss, neat — really out of sight. Yes, that's the Class of '69. Thank you! We enjoyed being seniors very much.

School days are over for us but memories linger. It was a long time ago we entered the front door as lowly freshmen ... bashfully scanned the Commons Area ... everything seemed so large — so unconquerable. We worshipped the mighty seniors from afar ....

No other class can claim our distinction — we were the last class to be graduated that spent four full years in the halls of the Falcons. Just how did we make it through all our classes when we had so many other things to do? Remember the brainwracking ACT, PSAT, SAT, the ITED'S.

Will we ever forget the crowded ramp in front of the library between classes when we inched along to gain access to the Commons Area and into another jam where we lingered talking to friends about boys ... girls ... dates ... tests ... sports ... clothes ... mostly personal things? All too soon the five-minute passing period or half-hour lunch slipped by — and all too soon this year was over.

the zenith —

GLUED to television sets during Christmas vacation millions of people circled the moon with Apollo 8 astronauts . . . the greatest achievement in history of man. Next victory . . . the moon? The universe?

Closer home the "Heights farmers," proud and determined, achieved their greatest victories . . . the band was chosen to represent Kansas in President-elect Nixon's inauguration parade in Washington, D. C. To raise the $30,000 backers sold candy, stationery, put on a carnival, and donated money . . . Marla Graves and Bill Hensley won the honor of representing state NFL members at the national tournament in Washington, D.C. . . . Falcon cagers beat the North Redskins to gain top City League ranking for the first time.

These were but a few of the conquests bringing recognition to the hillside home of the Falcons.

social —

SPARKLE, zest, enthusiasm for school stemmed from the many social activities of after school hours. Falcons thrived on it, for it was a vital force in everyday life . . . Homecoming dance . . . Christmas dance . . . Sweetheart dance . . . the Prom . . . with their queens and king . . . all helped create a series of unforgettable events.

Remember the powder puff game . . . seniors edged the junior girls, 13-12 . . . juniors received their rings just before Christmas . . . the protest march to "Get Heights Out of the Mud," when we paraded in front of the BOE with posters protesting no tennis courts and no paved parking lots. . . .

apogee —

IN YEARS TO COME sounds and sights may stir the recesses of the mind . . . the clatter of a typewriter . . . watching Saturday night faked wrestling matches on TV . . . waiting in line to plead innocent to a traffic violation while the judge's voice rings out may recall Mr. Wilson's typing classes, our City League wrestling champs, or "Napoli," a legislative game played in Mrs. Karban's government classes.

This was the year of the "generation gap", the election of President Richard M. Nixon, the hippies, Viet Nam warfare, the Pueblo affair, the surtax, the opening of Century II . . . they affected us in many ways.

Winter sports provided an air of excitement as the Falcon cagers kept pace with Southeast in No. 1 spot throughout the season, the swimmers captured state times and the wrestlers won the League again, and gymnastics was at its best.

It was GREAT to be a Falcon.

finale —

NOW COMES the finale for the seniors. Anxiously . . . perhaps sadly . . . even tearfully . . . the Class of '69 don their robes and walk down the steps, the long aisle in Henry Levitt Arena at WSU.

Their triangle now breaks away from the triple Falcon design . . . from sophomores, to juniors, to seniors . . . the perpetual triangle prevails for a new one, Class of '72, will unite with the Class of '70 and '71. The sixties will be seen no more but the '69 triangle moves on in a different orbit.

As the Class of '69 leaves behind the halls of Heights its members will join other triangles or symbols in college, businesses or groups . . . some much more complex, more demanding, more challenging.

Take one look at the aqua-colored triangles on the gleaming white rectangular tower. Some of us spent four years here . . . the imprints will perpetuate.

thank you

AFTER LOOKING at the pictures . . . finding your friends . . . perhaps yourself . . . take time to examine the pages more carefully . . . the cover . . . even the copy. It was all done for you . . . and it took time, thought, and cooperation on the part of many.

The Talon '69 staff wishes to thank everyone who helped make this book come to life.

Special thanks go to Mr. Murl Jones, Student Photos, for our colored pages, to Mr. Frank Wright, American Yearbook Company representative, and Mr. Don Richardson for loaning us his tractor.
